

The Making of the Apostle Paul - according to Luke

a talk by
Luke Macnamara OSB

Paul is commonly regarded as a maverick, a fearless Apostle extending the frontiers of the Church. The evangelist Luke tells a very different story in the Acts of the Apostles. This talk will explore the Paul of Acts and what this story has to say about the role of the Spirit in the Church for today.

Thursday 9th August @ 7:30 pm

Community Services Centre, Scarlet Crescent, Drogheda

❖ Dr Luke Macnamara OSB is a monk of Glenstal Abbey and lecturer in Sacred Scripture in Saint Patrick's College Maynooth. He graduated from UCD Medical School in 1994 and completed General Practice Specialisation in 1998. Having entered Glenstal Abbey, he pursued undergraduate studies in Theology at the Institut Catholique in Paris (2001-2005). He did graduate work in Biblical Studies at the Pontifical Biblical Institute in Rome and Jerusalem, obtaining a licence and doctorate in Sacred Scripture. He has published a monograph on Paul in the Acts of the Apostles and many articles in scientific and popular journals. He is a regular retreat giver and conference participant.