

What would you do?

1. You received a text on your phone from one of your friends. The text says some really nasty things about someone else in your class. You are supposed to pass it on to the people in your phonebook. The person is not really one of your friends but something doesn't feel right about forwarding such a horrible text. You imagine how you would feel if it was about you. What do you do?

2. There is a new girl in your class. She comes from another country and doesn't speak very much English. Her clothes are very different from the other children in the class. The teacher puts her sitting beside you and asks you to help her settle in. Some of your friends laugh at her in the playground; make fun of her accent and her clothes. They won't let her join in any of your games. When you try to tell them that this isn't fair, they laugh at you and call you 'teacher's pet'. What do you do?

4. You Know that one of your friends has started to drink alcohol. They are in your house after school and take some beer from the fridge. Your parent (s) discover the beer is gone and ask you if you know what happened to it. If you tell the truth your friend will be in serious trouble, but you are also worried about what will happen if they keep drinking. What do you do?
